

The NAIS/E.E. Ford Fellowship for Aspiring School Heads is a one-year long program of leadership development for emerging independent school leaders. It is a critical and central component of NAIS's leadership development philosophy. The fellowship experience for the first cohort entailed the following components: participation in the NAIS School Leadership Program; completion of a school leadership project; engaging in a relationship with a mentor; and taking part in Fellow-specific programming at the 2004 NAIS Annual Conference.

The program was made possible by investment and support from the Fellow's school, NAIS, and the Edward E. Ford Foundation.

The 2003-04 cohort contact information (as of December 2005):
